(3) Note for the Assumption of Going Concern

Not applicable.

(4) Note for Material Changes in Shareholders' Equity

Not applicable.

(5) Change in Accounting Principles that is Difficult to Distinguish from Change in Accounting Estimates

The Chiba Bank and consolidated subsidiaries have changed the depreciation method for buildings, which had been adopted the declining balance method, to the straight-line method from the current first quarter of consolidated fiscal year.

With the launch of the 14th medium term management plan "NEXT STEP 2023 —connect and go beyond, for the future-" and the completion of new head office in the current fiscal year, we reviewed the depreciation method for buildings. We concluded that the straight-line method which allocates depreciation expense evenly over the useful lives would more appropriately reflect the actual condition of management to periodic profit, because buildings are used long-term and stable, and the value in use decrease approximately constantly through their duration.

As a result of this change, depreciation for the current third quarter of consolidated fiscal year decreased, and ordinary profit and profit before income taxes increased by ¥495 million respectively compared with the previous method.

(6) Additional Information

There were no significant changes in the assumptions of accounting estimates on the COVID-19 pandemic stated as additional information in the Securities Report for the previous consolidated fiscal year.

We currently expect that the COVID-19 pandemic will continue to have a certain negative impact on the credit risk of loans and that the repayment capacity of borrowers may decline. Allowance for loans losses was provided based on the expectation that the COVID-19 pandemic will converge gradually over the next fiscal year and the net credit costs will not increase significantly.

This expiation is uncertain and there may be a negative impact on our operating results if the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic continues over a long period.

(7) Subsequent Events
